

No Dayenu

But... we're Jews. I mean, we're White but...

Remember when I was a kid: all those trips to the Holocaust museum? The pictures of the barracks and the burned boots?

I mean, that was fucking brutal to see as a twelve-year-old kid but I got the point.

Never again.

Think about your grandparents. Think about the Holocaust deniers— the fucking white supremacists at The Capitol with the “Camp Auschwitz” t-shirts. Our Black brothers and sisters are being killed in the street and you sit here and — what— shrug? Deny responsibility? Wait for somebody to fix your country for you?

Now is our time to do something, say something. Now is the time for us to stand up for these people— the way nobody stood up for the Jews. Come on, man. It's time for you to take pride in calling yourself a Jew.
